- Whose job title or description includes the word "diversity," "equity," "equality," or "inclusion";
- Is employed by an office, division, program, or other agency with a name or title that includes the word "diversity," "equity," "equality," or "inclusion"; or

Of the 72 relative employees from Oct. 2023 submitted to Representative Decker in July 2024, all but two have officially entered new roles as of Aug. 31, 2024. The 2 remaining positions are in process.

RESPONSE: Similar to the positions, relevant offices and departments are in the process of being disbanded. Some are being re-worked to better acknowledge our commitment to serving all people in our community. The one exception is the Center for Health Equity Transformation (CHET). CHET is designed to tackle the leading health conditions experienced by Kentuckians (see below).

CHET: Kentucky has a declining life expectancy and among the highest national rates of morbidity and mortality from cardiovascular disease, cancer, substance abuse, diabetes, and obesity. Moreover, the burden of these diseases is not evenly distributed; suffering falls disproportionately on rural, racial/ethnic, and LBGQTIA communities, those with disabilities and those from lower socioeconomic status groups.

v. The annual budget of the office, department, or program and the source of those funds.

CHET receives funding from the College of Medicine, College of Arts and Sciences, College of Communication & Information, College of Public Health, Center for Clinical & Translational Science, Office of the Vice President for Research, Cardiovascular RPA, and UNITE RPA. External to UK, CHET has received funding from Aetna Better Health of Kentucky and Anthem BlueCross and BlueShield Medicaid.

Since 2019, Primary Faculty have been awarded 45 grants for a total of $64.7 million in new funding. Including funding obtained prior to 2019, the total funding for CHET primary faculty is $115.2 million across 66 research projects with current active grants totaling $102.5 million for FY23-24. In addition to their success in obtaining research funding, CHET's Primary Faculty average seven peer-reviewed publications and six peer-reviewed presentations annually. This is extraordinary productivity, especially considering that 8 out of 10 primary faculty are early career faculty and/or pre-tenure.

“As a Wildcat,

- I promise to strive for academic excellence and freedom by promoting an environment of creativity and discovery.*
- I promise to pursue all endeavors with integrity and compete with honesty.*
- I promise to embrace diversity and inclusion and to respect the dignity and humanity of others.*

RESPONSE: Please see the response to Rep. Decker (submitted 7/31/24). The former bias incident response system was built to direct claims to the Office of Institutional Equity and Equal Opportunity (now the Office of Equal Opportunity); it did not adjudicate.

f) Student Centers: Identify any student centers that provide services for an identified minority group.

RESPONSE: Interpreting this as physical spaces and centers which utilize space on campus and serve specific populations. Please see 09-11-24_orgs_spaces_LRC.

3. FACULTY-CENTERED DEI INITIATIVES

- a) Faculty/Staff Diversity Statements: diversity statements or oaths of an institution or department of an institution that faculty, staff, or job applicants are required to submit as a condition of employment, continued employment, promotion, contract renewal, or other benefit.
- i. Please provide a complete copy of the general employment application of the institution and any supplemental applications or documents required by the institution of any academic department of the institution.
  - ii. Please provide documentation of each diversity statement or oath offered to faculty, staff, or job applicants, and for each please state:
    - (1) The subject and purpose of the diversity statement or oath?
    - (2) What are the consequences for an individual that declines to submit a diversity statement or oath?
    - (3) What mechanisms are in place to prevent retaliation based upon an individual's decision to decline submitting a statement or oath?

RESPONSE: Nothing applies after the cut-off date of July 1, 2024. No searches initiated after that date require any diversity statements.

b) Faculty and Staff DEI Trainings:

- i. Does the institution require a DEI training or sensitivity training?
- ii. Does the institution or departments within the institution require trainings on the principles of free speech, debate, open inquiry, and viewpoint diversity?
- iii. Please provide a written list of all faculty and staff trainings required by an institution or department within an institution. For each, please provide:

  - (2) The basic subject matter of the training;
  - (3) The job titles of the individuals required to participate in the training; and
  - (4) The department or office that is responsible for issuing and/or enforcing the requirement.

RESPONSE: No. The university does not mandate such trainings. Those trainings that are optional fall outside the scope of this question.

4. BIAS INCIDENTS: How does the institution handle allegations of bias incidents committed by faculty and staff?

RESPONSE: Please see the response to Rep. Decker (submitted 7/31/24). The former bias incident response infrastructure has been dismantled. Inquiries made to Office of Equal Opportunity follow federal guidelines.

Representative Decker Response
07-31-24_Compiled Responses-Decker Request

1a. From 2018 to 2024, each person who held a position whose title included the word “Diversity”, “Equity”, “Equality”, “Inclusion”, “Inclusive” or “DEI”.

Please see 07-31-24_1a-c_Request. Please note the individuals on this spread sheet meet one or more of the criteria in question one. However, this does not mean the individual’s primary responsibility or even secondary responsibility was DEI.

1b. Each person who was employed in an office, department, agency or other grouping whose name included the word “Diversity”, “Equity”, “Equality”, “Inclusion”, “Inclusive” or “DEI”.

Please see 07-31-24_1a-c_Request.

1c. Each person (regardless of the position title he or she held or what office, department, agency or other grouping he or she worked for) spent 25% or more of his or her time working on “DEI initiatives,” however you define that term.

Please see 07-31-24_1a-c_Request (based on Major Job Responsibility percentages).

2. Please disclose whether, and to what extent, the university engaged in “bias incident response” work at any point in the last six years. Without disclosing the identity of any accuser, witness or person who was accused, please provide a detailed description of any such work undertaken by the university since July 1, 2018, including: a description of each bias incident that was reported, and whether it was investigated; the names, titles and employers of the persons who investigated each incident; and the outcome of each investigation and the consequences that followed from it, if any.

Following the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit’s decision in Speech First v. Schlissel in 2019, the university has not used its bias incident response mechanism to convey an implicit threat of punishment for those alleged to have committed a bias incident. Rather, the university has used the bias incident response system primarily as an information gathering mechanism. In some instances, the Institutional Equity and Equal Opportunity Office would treat a report as a basis to begin a formal investigation. Those investigations were done independently of the bias incident response mechanism. Due to constitutional and statutory privacy rights, the university cannot share copies.

3. Please state whether, at anytime between July 1, 2020, and the date of your response, any member of the university faculty or staff was required to communicate in a core syllabus or otherwise, a statement of support for diversity, equity and inclusion and initiatives, including initiatives that provide differential, preferential or prejudicial treatment to students, faculty, staff and or contractors. If yes, please explain.

Yes, there are three instances. First, the former University Senate Rules required a syllabus statement in support of diversity, equity and inclusion. After the UK Board of Trustees abolished the University Senate in June 2024, this rule no longer exists.

Second, some job postings require applicants to respond to open ended questions on topics related to DEI. Postings within UK HealthCare require all applicants to agree to abide by the UK HealthCare values, which are diversity, innovation, compassion and teamwork.

Third, the university operates the Disparities Researchers Equalizing Access for Minorities (DREAM) Scholars Program. Although open to all predoctoral trainees — postdoctoral trainees and assistant professors in good standing are eligible to apply — there is a preference for applicants who are underrepresented minorities in research

4. Please state whether, at anytime between July 1, 2023, and the date of your response, the university provided differential, preferential or prejudicial treatment or benefit to any candidate for employment, promotion, contract or contract renewal on the basis of religion, race, sex, color or national origin.

Consistent with its obligations under the Constitution, the university does not give preferences based on religion, sex, color or national origin. All employment decisions are made on the basis of merit. As part of our procurement process, firms are asked about their commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion, but all decisions are made on the basis of merit.

5. State whether, as of the date of response to this letter, the university has the formal or informal policy that prohibits discrimination on the basis of an individual's political or social viewpoint.

The university has formal policies prohibiting discrimination on the basis of an individuals' political or social viewpoints. Specifically, the University's Governing Regulations (University Constitution), Administrative Regulations (university statutes implementing the Constitution) and Human Resources Policies prohibit such discrimination.

6. Please state whether, as of the date of your response to this letter, you believe the university is required by any federal or state law, court order or binding contract, to provide differential treatment or benefits to individuals on the basis of religion, race, sex, color or national origin.

No, the university is not required by any federal or state law, court order or binding contract to provide differential treatment or benefits to individuals on the basis of religion, race, sex, color or national origin. Indeed, absent extraordinary circumstances, both the United States Constitution and the Kentucky Constitution forbid consideration of race, sex and religion in decision-making. At times, federal or state laws do require the university to make accommodations on the basis of religion or disability, but the university does not consider these legally required accommodations to be “differential treatment or benefits”.

7. Please state whether, as of the date of your response to this letter, there are any students enrolled at the university who received a scholarship that was awarded on the basis of the recipient’s religion, race, sex, color or national origin.

The university interprets your question as asking whether the university awarded race exclusive scholarships. With that understanding, the answer is no. The university has always complied with the Constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court.

First, consistent with the Court’s decision over the last half century, the university does not have scholarships which are race exclusive.

Second, prior to the Supreme Court’s decision in Students for Fair Admissions v. President and Fellows of Harvard College, the university — consistent with applicable case law — had a number of scholarships that considered race as one factor among many. To the extent that scholarships were awarded prior to Students for Fair Admissions and were renewable, the university has honored those commitments.

Third, after the Supreme Court’s decision in Students for Fair Admissions, the university does not consider race. Consistent with the Court’s decision, the university may consider the content of personal statements, which may include a discussion of how race has impacted the applicant’s life.

8. Provide a listing of all academic courses currently offered or planned at the university that (a) are dedicated to the promotion or justification of diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives, including the promotion or justification of differential, preferential or prejudicial treatment or benefit to candidates for employment, promotion, the contract or contract renewal on the basis of religion, race, sex, color or national origin, or (b) present as truth, rather than as a subject for inquiry, that an existing structure, system or relation of power, privilege or subordination persists on the basis of oppression, colonialism, socioeconomic status, religion, race, sex, color or national origin.

Based on a review of the course descriptions of more than 5,000 2023-24 enrolled classes, the university does not offer any courses which are “dedicated to the promotion or justification of diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives” or which “present as truth, rather than as a subject for inquiry” the various topics described. There are courses which discuss those topics as a matter of inquiry. Consistent with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit’s decision in Meriwether v. Hartop, individual faculty members have a First Amendment right to teach students about certain concepts without presenting those concepts as truth.

9. Please provide a listing of all training sessions (excluding academic courses) currently offered or planned at the university that (a) are dedicated to the promotion or justification of diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives, including the promotion or justification of differential, preferential or prejudicial treatment or benefit to candidates for employment, promotion, the contract or contract renewal on the basis of religion, race, sex, color or national origin, or (b) present as truth, rather than as a subject for inquiry, that an existing structure, system or relation of power, privilege or subordination persists on the basis of oppression, colonialism, socioeconomic status, religion, race, sex, color or national origin.

Please see the information below

Human Resources

- The following is a listing of training sessions which HR offers that some may consider dedicated to the promotion or justification of diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives; however, none promote or justify differential, preferential or prejudicial treatment or benefit to candidates for employment or promotion on basis of religion, race, sex, color or national origin.

Competitive Academic Scholarships and Lewis Honors College

Students may apply to be considered for Competitive Academic Scholarships and/or the Lewis Honors College. Applications will not be reviewed until a student has been admitted to the university. All applicants should be aware that decisions for Honors admission are made independently of Competitive Academic Scholarships.

Once submitted, completed essay responses are final and cannot be changed.

Competitive Academic Scholarships

The University of Kentucky awards Competitive Academic Scholarships to eligible students.

- Competitive Scholarships include Singletary Scholarship and Presidential Scholarships, including GSP, GSA, GSE, Gatton and Craft Presidential.
- Applicants for Competitive Academic Scholarships can be considered with the traditional or test optional criteria listed below.
- To be considered for the Presidential Scholarship, you must have a minimum cumulative unweighted high school grade-point average of 3.50 or greater on a 4.00 scale and a minimum test score of 31 ACT or 1390 SAT. For consideration as a test optional applicant, you must have a minimum unweighted GPA of 4.00 on a 4.00 scale.
- To be considered for the Singletary Scholarship, you must have a minimum cumulative unweighted high school grade-point average of 3.80 on a 4.00 scale and a minimum test score of 33 ACT or 1450 SAT; or, if a test optional applicant, you must have a minimum unweighted GPA of 4.00 on a 4.00 scale.
- Please note that the minimum test score requirements are based on the composite or total score from one test date. Early application is strongly encouraged, but applications and supporting documents must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2024. Please note, it is the student's responsibility to request a transcript from the high school to be received by UK by the Early Action Deadline for scholarship consideration. Visit <https://studentsuccess.uky.edu/financial-aid-and-scholarships/academic-scholarships/incoming-freshmen-scholarships> for details.

Lewis Honors College

The University of Kentucky Lewis Honors College provides an enriching course of instruction for outstanding, highly motivated students that is complementary to all programs of study. An Honors education at UK opens up an exciting world of inquiry that may include research, education abroad, and service. Students are challenged intellectually and have access to creative and dedicated faculty who teach in small classes. The program prepares students for advanced study and to make a difference in the world upon graduation. The Honors curriculum requires 30 credit hours in Honors course work. This includes the required 3-credit Foundational Seminar course, participation in at least 6 credit hours of Honors Experiences (typically research, education abroad, internship/co-op, or service learning), an Honors Thesis (for 3 credits), and the student's choice of Honors course work and electives offered campus-wide. In reviewing applications, the Lewis Honors College selection committee considers the following: Academic Excellence, Essay Response, Engagement/Involvement, Leadership, Awards and Honors.

The mission of the Lewis Honors College is "to better the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the world by helping students to explore their purpose, develop intellectually, and lead with integrity." As such, students in the Honors College strive to increase their depth of thought, think critically, cultivate ideas, and successfully articulate their opinions in an organized and coherent manner. The selection committee looks to see that Honors applicants have begun honing such skills, and therefore the essay responses carry a large amount of weight in the admission process. There is no "right" answer to the essay prompt.

The deadline for submission of your application and all required documents is 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2024. To learn more, visit <http://www.uky.edu/honors/>.

Competitive Academic Scholarships and Lewis Honors College Essay

If you are applying to either Competitive Scholarships and/or the Lewis Honors College, you are required to write an essay, in 500 words or less, addressing the following question:

Kentucky is one of four states that is a Commonwealth. The term means the state is for the common good. What do you consider to be for “the common good” and how do you hope to use your life experiences, challenges, uniqueness, and intellect to contribute to the common good in your community, as you define it?

16. William C. Parker Belonging Scholarship interest and essay

William C. Parker Belonging Scholarship

William C. Parker Belonging Scholarship

Once submitted, completed essay responses are final and cannot be changed.

The William C. Parker Belonging Scholarship Program (WCP) directly supports the UK Strategic Plan goal to bring together many people as one community. Within this community is a broad range of lived experiences among our students, faculty, and staff. Together, these experiences and backgrounds help UK create and sustain a community of inclusion, understanding, and belonging. To that end, we want to better understand an applicant's experiences, beliefs, background, and perspectives. By recognizing the influence of individual experiences on skills, knowledge, character, and contribution, we will identify students who will positively contribute to a campus community where everyone belongs and where they thrive academically.

- To be considered for this competitive scholarship, you must have a minimum unweighted grade-point average of 2.50.
- For additional information, please visit <https://studentsuccess.uky.edu/financial-aid-and-scholarships/academic-scholarships/parker-scholarship>.
- Priority Application Deadline: December 1, 2024.
- Application Deadline: February 15, 2025. However, early application is encouraged as awards will be offered pending early application and availability of funds.

Admissions Essay

This is required for all applicants. 250 word minimum and 650 word maximum.

Once submitted, completed essay responses are final and cannot be changed.

The essay demonstrates your ability to write clearly and concisely on a selected topic and helps you distinguish yourself in your own voice. What do you want the readers of your application to know about you apart from courses, grades, and test scores? Choose the option that best helps you answer that question and write an essay of no more than 650 words, using the prompt to inspire and structure your response. Remember: 650 words is your limit, not your goal. Use the full range if you need it, but don't feel obligated to do so.

Please select your choice below.

Describe a topic, idea, or concept you find so engaging that it makes you lose all track of time. Why does it captivate you? What or who do you turn to when you want to learn more?

Discuss an accomplishment, event, or realization that sparked a period of personal growth and a new understanding of yourself or others.

Reflect on a time when you questioned or challenged a belief or idea. What prompted your thinking? What was the outcome?

Reflect on something that someone has done for you that has made you happy or thankful in a surprising way. How has this gratitude affected or motivated you?

Share an essay on any topic of your choice. It can be one you've already written, one that responds to a different prompt, or one of your own design.

Some students have a background, identity, interest, or talent that is so meaningful they believe their application would be incomplete without it. If this sounds like you, then please share your story.

The lessons we take from obstacles we encounter can be fundamental to later success. Recount a time when you faced a challenge, setback, or failure. How did it affect you, and what did you learn from the experience?

UK's impact begins with you!

Lend your experiences and ideas to this ongoing conversation on effective relationships and decision-making.

Welcome to your seat at the table!

The 3-part UBI series seeks to create space to reflect on and discuss how we each impact the promise of UK's Strategic Vision. We investigate how patterns inform our behaviors, sometimes without our intention. We examine how behaviors can both create and repair harm. In doing so, we create action plans aligning our interests and power to demonstrate that all who engage with UK are valued.

Part I: virtual (60 min)

Parts II and III:

- A. Virtual Part II (90 min) + Part III (90 min) or
- B. In-person Parts II and III (single 2 hour-session)

Individuals enroll through myUK Learning.
