Ron Busby Sr., President and CEO of the U.S. Black Chambers, Inc. (USBC), is a nationally recognized leader and advocate for Black business advancement. A seasoned entrepreneur, he successfully grew USA Superclean from a small venture into a $15 million enterprise within a decade, exemplifying his strategic vision and business acumen. His commitment to economic empowerment extends beyond business, having previously led the Greater Phoenix Black Chamber of Commerce and played a pivotal role in strengthening Black entrepreneurship nationwide.

For over 15 years, Ron has steered USBC into a global network that provides Black businesses with critical resources, strategic partnerships, and advocacy. Under his leadership, USBC has expanded its reach, representing over 300,000 Black-owned enterprises worldwide. His influence extends across multiple esteemed boards, where he continues to drive economic development and policy initiatives.

A sought-after thought leader, Ron is frequently featured in major media outlets, providing insights on Black entrepreneurship and economic policy. His leadership has also involved advising U.S. Presidents on strategies to bolster Black business growth and economic equity.

Ron holds a bachelor's degree from Florida A&M University and an MBA from Clark Atlanta University, reinforcing his commitment to HBCU excellence. Known as "America's Black CEO," he is dedicated to fostering economic progress and social equity for the Black community. An avid golfer and advocate for Black institutions, Ron balances his professional impact with personal passions, continually inspiring the next generation of Black business leaders.
