History and Purpose of SSBG

- Congress created the Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981.
- Five national goals of SSBG:
 - Achieving or maintaining economic self-support to prevent dependency;
 - Achieving or maintaining self-sufficiency, including prevention of dependency;
 - Preventing or remedying neglect, abuse, or exploitation of children or adults unable to protect their own interests, or preserving rehabilitating, or reuniting families;
 - Preventing or reducing inappropriate institutional care by providing for community-based care, home-based care, or other forms of less intensive care; and
 - Securing referral or admission for institutional care when other forms of care are not appropriate and providing services to individuals in institutions.

State Programs Funded by SSBG

- States were given the responsibility to determine which services they provide through the funding, the eligibility requirements, and service delivery methods in order to meet those goals. The following state programs are supported with this funding:
 - Adult protective services (APS)
 - Child protective services (CPS)
 - Home safety services
 - Juvenile services
 - Residential treatment services
 - Staff training

SSBG Budget Projections

- DCBS uses the following to create annual goals for SSBG:
 - Programs required to be administered by statute;
 - Prior and present service utilization;
 - Funds available;
 - Information obtained from surveys, focus groups, program evaluation, and monitoring;
 - Availability of other funds for services; and
 - Historical data on trends.
- Funds provide for staff or service contracts with individuals, other public agencies, or private providers to provide direct services
- State-mandated programs are prioritized to receive these funds when General Funding is not sufficient
