Overview and Status Update on the Long-Term Care Certification Surveys

Dr. Steven Stack, Secretary, Cabinet for Health and Family Services; Tricia Steward, Inspector General, Office of Inspector General, Cabinet for Health and Family Services; and Carrie Storms, R.N., Director, Division of Health Care, Office of Inspector General, Cabinet for Health and Family Services provided an update on the long-term care certification surveys.

In response to a question from Senator Tichenor, Ms. Steward noted that a priority one case is when the Office of Inspector General (OIG) receives a complaint alleging that a resident in a long-term care facility has received harm or has a high likelihood to receive harm. One example of this is if a resident elopes, or leaves the facility unsupervised.

In response to questions from Senator Berg, Ms. Steward said that the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) requires long-term care certification surveys to be completed every 12 to 15.7 months. Ms. Steward stated that the OIG is on target to have all long-term care centers receive a certification survey in 2024 or 2025. The OIG believes all long-term care center certification surveys will be within the 15.7 month mandate by March 31, 2026.

In response to a question from Senator Meredith, Dr. Stack said that the survey backlog began because of high staff vacancies and low wages within the OIG. Dr. Stack noted that wages were increased by the legislature in the last budget.

In response to a question from Representative Willner, Ms. Steward noted that the OIG now employs forty contract surveyors.
