(c) If the commissioner seeks in the complaint to amend the citation or proposed penalty, the commissioner shall state the reasons for amendment and shall state with particularity the change sought.

(d) The commissioner shall ensure that a copy of the complaint is personally served on the employer as required by this paragraph.

1. An employer who is an individual within the Commonwealth. Service shall be made upon the individual within the Commonwealth, other than an unmarried infant or person of unsound mind, by delivering a copy of the complaint to the person or, if acceptance is refused, by offering personal delivery to the person, or by delivering a copy of the complaint to an agent author-

2. Certified or Registered Mail. The commissioner shall send a copy of the complaint to the employer by United States certified or registered mail, return receipt requested with instructions to the delivering postal employee to deliver to the addressee and show the address where delivered and the date of delivery. The return receipt shall be proof of the time, place, and manner of service by registered or certified mail.

(a) Within fifteen (15) days after service of the complaint, the party against whom the complaint was issued shall file an answer with the commission.

(b) The answer shall contain a short and plain statement denying those allegations in the

(c) Failure to file an answer may constitute a default and dismissal of the employer's notice of contest pursuant to Section 23 of this administrative regulation. Prior to the dismissal of a notice of contest for failing to file an answer, the commission shall enter an order requiring the employer to show cause as to why the commission should not declare the employer to be in default. The commission shall serve its order pursuant to Section 9 of this administrative regulation. The order shall provide at least seven (7) days from the date of service for the employer to respond. The commission may dismiss the notice of contest if the employer fails to comply with the show cause.

Section 23. Failure to File. Failure to file any pleading pursuant to these rules when due may, in the discretion of the commission or the hearing officer, constitute a waiver of right to further participation in the proceedings.

Section 25. Prehearing Conference. (1) At any time before a hearing, the commission or the hearing officer, on their own motion or on motion of a party, may direct the parties or their representatives to exchange information or to participate in a prehearing conference for the purpose of considering matters which will tend to simplify the issues or expedite the proceedings.

(2) The commission or the hearing officer may issue a prehearing order which includes the agreements reached by the parties. The order shall be served on all parties and shall be a part of the record.

Section 26. General Provisions Concerning Discovery; Methods; Service of Discovery Papers; Scope of Discovery; Protective Orders; Sanctions; Supplementation of Responses. (1) In conformity with this section, any party may, without leave of the commission or hearing officer, obtain discovery through requests for admissions, interrogatories, and requests for production or inspection as set forth in Section 27 of this administrative regulation. Discovery shall not be available through depositions under Section 28 of this administrative regulation without leave of the commission or hearing officer.

(2) Every paper relating to discovery required to be served on a party shall be served on all parties pursuant to Section 9 of this administrative regulation. Requests for production or inspection, requests for admission and responses, interrogatories and answers, and discovery depositions shall be served upon other counsel or parties, but shall not be filed with the commission or hearing officer. If the interrogatories, requests, answers, responses, or depositions are to be used at the hearing or are necessary to a prehearing motion that might result in a final order on any claim, the portions used shall be filed with the hearing officer or commission at the outset of the hearing or at the filing of the motion if their use can be reasonably anticipated.

(3) The information or response sought through discovery may concern any matter that is not privileged and is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending case. It shall not be a ground for objection that the information or response sought will be inadmissible at the hearing, if the information or response appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence, regardless of which party has the burden of proof.

(4) Upon motion by a party or by the person from whom discovery is sought, and for good cause shown, the hearing officer or commission may make any order which justice requires to protect a party or person from annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden or expense, including one or more of the following:

(a) That the discovery not be had;

(b) That the discovery may be had only on specified terms and conditions, including a designation of the time or place;

(c) That the discovery may be had only by a method of discovery other than that selected by the party seeking discovery;

(d) That certain matters not be inquired into, or that the scope of the discovery be limited to certain matters;

(e) That discovery be conducted with no one present except persons designated by the commission or hearing officer;

(f) That a deposition after being sealed be opened only by order of the commission or hearing officer;

(g) That a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be disclosed or be disclosed only in a designated way; or

(h) That the parties simultaneously file specified documents or information enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by the commission or hearing officer.

(5) A party may apply for an order compelling discovery if another party refuses or obstructs discovery. An evasive or incomplete answer shall be treated as failure to answer. If a hearing officer enters an order compelling discovery and there is failure to comply with that order, the hearing officer or commission may enter appropriate orders that are just, including the following sanctions:

(a) An order that designated facts shall be taken to be established for purposes of the case in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining that order;

(b) An order refusing to permit the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting it from introducing matters in evidence;

(c) An order striking out pleadings or any of its parts, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed; or

(d) An order dismissing the proceeding or any of its parts, or rendering an order by default against the disobedient party.

(6) A party who has responded to a request for discovery with a response that was complete when made shall not have to supplement the response to include information acquired later, except as established by this subsection.

(a) A party shall seasonably supplement the response with respect to any questions directly addressed to:

1. The identity and locations of persons having knowledge of discoverable matters; and

2. The identity of each person expected to be called as an expert witness at the hearing, the subject matter on which the person is expected to testify, and the substance of the person's testimony.

(b) A party shall seasonably amend a prior response if the party obtains information upon the basis of which:

1. The party knows that the response was incorrect when made; or

2. The party knows that the response though correct when made is no longer true and under the circumstances, a failure to amend the response is in substance a knowing concealment.

(c) A duty to supplement responses may be imposed by order of the commission or hearing officer, agreement of the parties, or at any time prior to the hearing through a new request for supplementation of prior responses.

Section 27. Requests for Admissions, Interrogatories, Production of Documents and Things.

(1) Requests for Admissions.

(a) At any time after the filing of responsive pleadings, a party may request of any other party written requests for admissions, for the purposes of the pending action only, of the genuineness and authenticity of any document described in or attached to the requests, or of the truth of any specified matter of facts to be made under oath. Each matter of which an admission is requested shall be stated separately. The number of requested admissions shall not exceed twenty-five (25), including subparts, without an order of the commission or hearing officer. The party seeking more than twenty-five (25) requested admissions, including subparts, shall have the burden of persuasion to establish that the complexity of the case or the number of citation items necessitates a greater number of requested admissions.

(b) Each admission requested shall be stated separately. The matter shall be admitted unless, within thirty (30) days after service of the request or within a shorter or longer time as the commission or the hearing officer may prescribe, the party to whom the request is directed serves upon the party requesting the admission a written response specifically:

1. Admitting or denying the matter involved in whole or in part;
2. Asserting that it cannot be truthfully admitted or denied and stating in detail the reasons why this is so; or
3. Stating an objection, explaining in detail the reason for the objection. The response shall be made under oath or affirmation and signed by the party or the party's representative.

(c) Any matter admitted under this subsection shall be conclusively established unless the commission or hearing officer on motion permits withdrawal or amendment of the admission. The commission or hearing officer may permit withdrawal or amendment if doing so will subserve the presentation of the merits of the case and the party who obtained the admission fails to satisfy the commission or hearing officer that withdrawal or amendment will prejudice that party in presenting his or her case or defense on the merits.

(2) Interrogatories.

(a) At any time after the filing of responsive pleadings, a party may serve interrogatories upon any other party. The number of interrogatories shall not exceed twenty-five (25) questions, including subparts, without an order of the commission or hearing officer. The party seeking to serve more than twenty-five (25) questions, including subparts, shall have the burden of persuasion to establish that the complexity of the case or the number of citation items necessitates a greater number of interrogatories. The following shall not be included in the maximum allowed:

1. Interrogatories requesting the name and address of the person answering;
2. The names and addresses of the witnesses; and
3. Whether the person answering is willing to supplement his or her answers if information subsequently becomes available.

(b) Each interrogatory shall be answered separately and fully in writing under oath or affirmation, unless it is objected to. If objected to, the reasons for objection shall be stated instead of an answer. The answers shall be signed by the person making them and the objections by the party or the party's counsel. The party upon whom the interrogatories have been served shall serve a copy of answers or objections upon all parties within thirty (30) days after service of the interrogatories. The hearing officer may allow a shorter or longer time.

(c) An interrogatory shall not necessarily be objectionable merely because an answer to the interrogatory involves an opinion or contention that relates to fact or the application of law to fact.

(3) Production of documents and things.

(a) At any time after the filing of responsive pleadings, a party may serve on any other party a request to:

1. Produce or permit the party making the request, or a person acting on his or her behalf, to inspect and copy any designated documents, or to inspect and copy, test, or sample any tangible things which are in the possession, custody, or control of the party upon whom the request is served; or

2. Permit entry upon the designated land or other property in the possession or control of the party upon whom the request is served for the purpose of inspection and measuring, surveying, photographing, testing, or sampling the property or any designated object or operations on the property.

(b) The request shall state items to be inspected either by individual item or category, and describe each item and category with reasonable particularity. The request shall specify a reasonable time, place, and manner of making the inspection and performing related acts. The party upon whom the request is made shall serve a written response within thirty (30) days after the service of the request. The hearing officer may allow a shorter or longer time. The response shall state, with respect to each item or category, that inspection and related activities will be permitted as requested, unless the request is objected to. If objected to, the reasons for objection shall be stated.

Section 28. Discovery Depositions. (1) Except by special order of the commission or the hearing officer, discovery depositions of parties, intervenors, or witnesses shall not be allowed.
