

STATEMENT OF EMERGENCY
803 KAR 25:195E.

KRS 342.020(1) requires employers to pay for reasonable and necessary medical treatment for the cure and relief from the effects of a work-place injury or occupational disease. KRS 342.020(4) requires the employer to pay the medical provider within thirty (30) days of receipt of a statement for services and requires the commissioner to promulgate administrative regulations establishing conditions under which the thirty (30) day period for payment may be tolled. KRS 342.020(4) further requires the commissioner to promulgate administrative regulations with procedures by which disputes regarding the necessity, effectiveness, frequency, and cost of treatment may be resolved. Utilization review is a procedure by which medical treatment may be evaluated for reasonableness and necessity and disputes may be resolved; the thirty (30) day period for payment is tolled while a treatment is undergoing utilization review. Additionally, KRS 342.020(7)(f) requires employers with a managed care system to establish procedures for utilization review of medical services to assure that a course of treatment is reasonably necessary; diagnostic procedures are not unnecessarily duplicated; the frequency, scope, and duration of treatment is appropriate; pharmaceuticals are not unnecessarily prescribed; and that ongoing and proposed treatment is not experimental, cost ineffective, or harmful to the employee. KRS 342.035(5)(c) requires the commissioner to promulgate administrative regulations governing medical provider utilization review activities conducted by an insurance carrier, self-insured group, or self-insured employer pursuant to KRS Chapter 342. During the 2017 session of the General Assembly, KRS Chapter 13A was amended to state that administrative regulations shall expire seven (7) years after the last effective date. KRS 342.190 was due to expire unless the regulations compiler was notified that the Department of Workers' Claims had reviewed the administrative regulation and certified its desire to keep the administrative regulation in effect or notified the regulations compiler it would amend the administrative regulation; the Department notified the regulations compiler of its intent to amend 803 KAR 25:190. An amendment to 803 KAR 25:190 was filed February 18, 2021, and found deficient by the Administrative Regulation Review Subcommittee during its meeting on November 9, 2021. Governor Andy Beshear determined 803 KAR 25:190 was effective notwithstanding the finding of deficiency. The General Assembly passed Senate Bill 65 on April 13, 2022, over the Governor's veto. Senate Bill 65 provides that 803 KAR 25:190, as amended, expires if not adopted by the time the bill was enacted or, if it had been adopted by the time the bill was enacted, then 803 KAR 25:190 is null, void, and unenforceable at the time the bill was enacted. In contravention to the statutory requirements of KRS Chapter 342, no administrative regulation is in effect to govern medical provider utilization review activities conducted by an insurance carrier, self-insured group, or self-insured employer pursuant to KRS Chapter 342. Additionally, it is not possible to have an ordinary administrative regulation become effective in time to meet these statutory requirements. The guidance provided in this emergency administrative regulation cannot be provided through an ordinary administrative regulation because the ordinary rulemaking process cannot be completed in time to meet the statutory requirements. This emergency administrative regulation will be replaced by an ordinary administrative regulation. The ordinary administrative regulation is identical to this emergency administrative regulation.

LABOR CABINET

KRS 342.035(5) requires the commissioner to promulgate administrative regulations governing medical provider utilization review activities conducted by an insurance carrier, group self-insurer or self-insured employer pursuant to KRS Chapter 342. KRS 342.035(5) provides the commissioner of the Department of Workers' Claims shall promulgate administrative regulations that require each insurance carrier, group self-insurer and individual self-insured employer to certify to the commissioner the program it has adopted to insure compliance with the medical fee schedule provisions of KRS 342.035(1) and (4). KRS 342.035(8) requires the commissioner to adopt or develop a pharmaceutical formulary and treatment guidelines; utilization review assists in the proper implementation of the pharmaceutical formulary and treatment guidelines. This administrative regulation insures that insurance carriers, group self-insurers, and individual self-insured employers implement a utilization review and medical bill audit program.
