NISL offers high-quality, research based professional development programs designed to give principals the critical knowledge and skills they need to be instructional leaders and improve student achievement in their schools. NISL-trained KDE Staff deliver state of the art instruction that incorporates best practices in adult learning, such as case studies, computer-assisted simulations, video presentations, and facilitated group discussions with other school leaders. NISL's Executive Development Program provides a powerful learning experience for principals in struggling schools or principals in good schools who aspire for great results. The cohort- based training enables principals to learn from each other, share strategies, and build common approaches to address the challenges they face. The program will provide professional development to school and district leaders to drive their schools and districts to high performance. The program emphasizes the role of principals as strategic thinkers, instructional leaders, and creators of a just, fair, and caring culture in which all students meet high standard. Its primary goal is to ensure that the participating school leaders have the knowledge, skills, and tools to effectively set direction for teachers, support their staffs, and design an efficient organization.
