

HB 40 HCS modifies current law to allow a person convicted of a Class D felony (except for a sex offense, an offense under KRS Chapter 209 - Protection of Adults, or an offense committed against a child) to petition the court to have his or her criminal record expunged under the same conditions and procedures required for expungement of misdemeanors and violations (including court notification to the prosecuting attorney and the victim). HB 40 HCS also allows expungement of felonies referred to a grand jury when there is no indictment. A person who has had his or her record expunged would be permitted to possess a firearm under KRS 527.040.

HB 40 HCS provides for the disclosure of an expunged criminal record when required by federal or state law or regulation. The bill creates a new section of KRS Chapter 413 providing that in any judicial or administrative proceeding alleging negligence or other fault in the hiring retaining, licensing, certifying, admitting to a school or program, or otherwise transacting business or engaging in activity with a person, no information relating to a criminal charge against or conviction of that person that has been expunged before the occurrence of the act giving rise to the judicial or administrative proceeding may be introduced.

Part III: Fiscal Explanation, Bill Provisions, and Estimated Cost

The fiscal impact of HB 40 HCS on local government is identical to that of HB 40 and is expected to be minimal. Local jails transfer custody of records upon release of inmates and will be unaffected. For local law enforcement agencies, there may be a minimal impact as it takes about thirty minutes to expunge a paper record. As time passes, there will be more expungement of computerized records, which takes not more than five minutes.

Although the local government fiscal impact of HB 40 HCS is indeterminate (due to the impossibility of predicting a percentage of those who may petition to have a record expunged) the fiscal impact of HB 40 HCS on units of local governments is expected to be minimal. As of 2015 the Kentucky State Police reports that according to the Kentucky Department of Corrections, the 10-year average number of cases involving Class D felony convictions (with statutory exclusions) is 15,800. In 2015 the Kentucky State Police also estimated that there could be approximately 174, 068 Class D felony convictions eligible for retroactive expungement. The majority of sex offense convictions, or an offense under KRS Chapter 209, or an offense committed against a child was excluded from the above data.
