A legislative day shall be construed to mean a calendar day, exclusive of Sundays, legal holidays, or any day on which neither House meets.

(2) The members of the General Assembly shall not receive compensation for their services when the Governor calls the General Assembly into extraordinary session for the purpose of considering a general appropriation bill after the General Assembly has adjourned from a regular session and not passed a general appropriation bill or bills appropriating moneys for the operation of state government.

→Section 2. This amendment shall be submitted to the voters of the Commonwealth for their ratification or rejection at the time and in the manner provided for under Sections 256 and 257 of the Constitution and under KRS 118.415. The question to be submitted to the voters shall read as follows: "Are you in favor of prohibiting the members of the General Assembly from receiving legislative pay for a special session called by the Governor for the purpose of passing a state budget, when the General Assembly has adjourned a regular session without passing a state budget?".
