6 blindness or a prospective parent who has blindness in the effective use of 7 nonvisual techniques and other alternative methods to enable the parent or 8 prospective parent to discharge parental responsibilities as successfully as a 9 parent who does not have blindness.

10 ➔SECTION 3. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 405 IS CREATED TO 11 READ AS FOLLOWS:

12 (1) A parent's blindness shall not serve as a basis for denial or restriction of 13 visitation or custody in family or dependency law cases when the visitation or 14 custody is determined to be otherwise in the best interest of the child.

15 (2) A prospective parent's blindness shall not serve as a basis for his or her denial of 16 participation in public or private adoption when the adoption is determined to be 17 otherwise in the best interest of the child.

18 (3) An individual's blindness shall not serve as a basis for denial of foster care or 19 guardianship when the appointment is determined to be otherwise in the best 20 interest of the child.

21 (4) Where a parent or prospective parent's blindness is alleged to have a detrimental 22 impact on a child, the party raising the allegation bears the burden of proving by 23 clear and convincing evidence to a court that the behaviors are endangering or 24 will likely endanger the health, safety, or welfare of the child.

25 (5) If a parent or prospective parent's blindness is alleged to have a detrimental 26 impact on a child, the parent or prospective parent with blindness shall have the 27 opportunity to demonstrate how the implementation of supportive parenting

1 services can alleviate any concerns that have been raised. The court may require 2 that such supportive parenting services be put in place, with an opportunity to 3 review the need for continuation of such services within a reasonable period of 4 time.

5 (6) If a court determines that the right of a parent with blindness to custody, 6 visitation, foster care, guardianship, or adoption should be denied or limited in 7 any manner, the court shall make specific written findings stating the basis for 8 such a determination and why the provision of supportive parenting services is 9 not a reasonable accommodation that must be made to prevent such denial or 10 limitation.
