3 WHEREAS, Kentucky's unique geographical location makes it an ideal hub for the 4 transportation of goods by highway, rail, river, and air; and

5 WHEREAS, Kentucky, located within a day's drive of two-thirds of the U.S.
6 population at the center of a 34-state distribution area in the eastern United States, has a 7 location advantage that facilitates the distribution of goods and materials to a massive 8 industrial and consumer market; and

9 WHEREAS, Kentucky ranks 2nd in the nation in total air cargo shipments and is 10 home to three global shipping hubs (UPS World Port, DHL Americas hub, and Amazon 11 Air global port), resources that put Kentucky at the heart of the global stream of 12 commerce; and

13 WHEREAS, Kentucky has over 1,400 miles of interstates and limited-access, 14 interstate grade parkways, to facilitate the free flow of commerce, including Interstates 65 15 and 75, two of the most vital freight corridors in the nation; and

16 WHEREAS, Kentucky, which ranks 4th in the nation with 1,020 miles of 17 commercially navigable waterways, is surrounded on three sides by the commercially
18 navigable rivers of the Mississippi, Ohio, and Big Sandy River, and also the Tennessee, 19 Cumberland, Green and Licking Rivers which are able to move freight, giving the 20 Commonwealth great advantages in being at the center of a vast inland waterways 21 network and at the confluence of several critical inland waterway routes; and

22 WHEREAS, Kentucky's 2,562 railroad miles, and 13 railroads, including two Class
23 1 railroads, are the fourth key component in the multimodal freight transportation

26 overnight delivery and the rapid transportation of freight has strained our nation's supply 27 chain over the last few years; and

1 WHEREAS, improvements to Kentucky's multimodal freight transportation system
2 will require careful analysis and targeted public investment, which, if done properly,
